

2024

Corporation of the Year

Protocol for Life Balance
NOW Foods

The American Association of Naturopathic Physicians (AANP) & Protocol For Life Balance®

On July 12, 2024, Protocol For Life Balance® received the award of Corporation of the Year by the President of AANP which held its annual convention in Chicago. The award is meant to reward companies for their long-standing dedication to support the profession of naturopathic physicians.

As part of the conference, Dr. Sarah Hung, ND, MSOM, L.Ac. presented a lecture on the role of mitochondria in aging and chronic disease, which was sponsored by Protocol For Life Balance®.

Protocol For Life Balance® also organized a tour of our manufacturing facilities and state-of-the-art laboratories to 45 practitioners who volunteered to visit our plant in nearby Bloomingdale. The visit concluded with a dinner and raffle - everyone had a lot of fun!

At Protocol For Life Balance®, we believe that healthcare practitioners are our best allies to further the use of dietary supplements. Our research and development teams are working relentlessly to develop products of the highest quality using clinically validated ingredients so you can in turn recommend the best dietary supplements to your patients so they can optimize their health.